ARCHITECTURAL products

Dan Sullivan
of Kova

1

product Modwall
recap The company's VP of R&D created an affordable, flexible interior wall system that controls acoustics: a reconfigurable box-in-box post-and-beam module insulated by a sustainable, plant-based alternative. kovaproducts.com

Jasmine Roth
for Hunter Fan Company

2

product Malden recap Bringing a minimalist touch to a utilitarian fixture typology, the HGTV star conjured a modern Scandi-style ceiling fan in matte black, matte white, or dove gray with a three-speed reversible motor. Cool! hunterfan.com

Jonathon Kemnitzer and Brad Satterwhite for Loftwall

3

product Thin
recap Available in straight and wavy formats, KEM Studio's slender 9mm-thick recycled-plastic baffles are ultra-lightweight and visually airy, looking more like hanging fabric panels than stocky sound-absorbing felt planks. loftwall.com

Konstantin Grcic
for Alpi

4

product Arcobaleno recap A decorative veneer made of reconstituted wood is suitable for surfaces large or small, straight or curved; colors gradually blend into one another, forming a rainbow effect the designer describes as "psychedelic and pop." alpi.it

PRODUCT 4: FEDERICO CEDRONE

Ruchika Grover
of Borrowed Earth Collaborative

5

product Strip
recap The company founder's pleated-look stone panels, shown in Cecilia Gold limestone, perfectly evince the company's ethos of transforming natural materials into architectural artworks. borrowedearthcollaborative.com

Jessica Davis
of Nest Studio

6

product Aperture
recap Knuckle-duster knobs, handles, and appliance pulls from the studio owner are ideal for retrofit applications: The hardware's wide enough to cover most mounting holes, eliminating the need to refinish existing millwork. neststudiocollection.com

Dayna Holleyman and Shelly Halbert of American Olean

7

product Foyer
recap U.S.-made marble-look porcelain tile celebrating the manufacturer's centennial comes in classic black or white—or choose this beautifully mottled mix: the designers' favorite colorway, dubbed Contrast. americanolean.com

Giuseppe Bavuso
for Rimadesio

8

product Air
recap Made from 100 percent recyclable glass and aluminum via a solar-energy-powered production process, the Milanese architect's bidirectional pivot-door system eschews structural elements like jambs and frames for a minimalist flush, full-height look. rimadesio.it/en
