· COLLECTION ·

“I’m always looking to create pieces that will add drama and texture, feel local, provide quiet sophistication and still maintain their function.”

– Jessica Davis

Founded in 2012, Nest Studio Collection is a purveyor of decorative hardware that lives at the forefront of design. With inspiration ranging from Bauhaus and Art Deco architecture to Pre-Columbian pyramids and the wonders of the natural world, our innovative collection of products are internationally renowned for their sophisticated luxury.

Whether through the signature collections or the exclusive, and groundbreaking, artisan collaborations, our team of product designers and engineers create designs that allow for the perfect blend of form and function. Our hardware features solid brass construction combined with luxurious mixed materials and hand rubbed finishes.

Acclaimed interior designer Jessica Davis launched Nest Studio after a frustrating search for beautiful hardware to feature in her own interiors projects. Jessica draws from a wide range of design inspiration from the forms of modern architecture to the texture and dimension found in historic and contemporary art.

In addition to being Principal and Creative Director of Nest Studio, Jessica Davis is a sought-after designer of lighting, kitchen and bath accessories and renowned interiors projects. With an Art History degree from Princeton University and a Master's in Interior Design from The New England School of Art and Design, Jessica's projects always have a touch of the unexpected.

Jessica resides in Atlanta with her husband Scott and two children. When she is not working on expanding the Nest Studio line and her design practice Atelier Davis, she can be found gardening, painting, trying out DIY projects on her mid-century modern home and searching for ways to combine Nest Studio pieces with her vintage furniture finds.
