1. The brass-finished Bergman floor lamp (19" w. x 19" d. x 72" h.) from Mr. Brown London is noted for its multi-faceted, diamond-shaped enclosure. The base measures 12 inches in diameter. mrbrownhome.com

2. One of the most effective ways to introduce texture, color, and form into your home is with one of the Rugged Concrete surfaces from Caesarstone. Their model #4033 is defined by a medium-gray base, camouflaged by billows of white. caesarstone.com

3. Fuzzy Wuzzy is more than a bear—it's now a new line of velvety textiles from Kerry Joyce. The textile is available in three colors—Polar, Tawny, and Mocha—and is best used to upholster a favorite chair. kerryjoycetextiles.com

4. The French designer Christian Liaigre simply cannot stop creating. His newest product is the LIAGRE Maui console, which features a high-gloss Jamaican dogwood top paired with a handsome pedestal base made of burned oak. liaigre.com

5. When Nest Studio set out to design their new Step Series of hardware, they drew inspiration from Art Deco forms, as well as the geometry of pre-Columbian pyramids. Available in polished nickel, antique brass, and satin brass. nest-studio-home.com

6. Bungalow Classic's leather Bristol Tub Chair (20" d. x 20" h. x 29 1/2" arm height) for Highland House makes an elegant statement in any room with its crisscrossing legs and tapered form, which includes a subtle notch. highlandhousefurniture.com

7. Any collection shines when displayed in the Cork Corner Cabinet designed by Rose Tarlow. The piece uses an antique painted finish with a fruitwood interior. The items features an upper glass door with a wood frame. rosetarlow.com

8. Few items of furniture work in every interior, but the Chloe Burl Console from Ave Home is one that does. The organic nature of the burl wood softens the straight lines of this classic Parsons-style console. avehome.com

9. It's one of the most evocative times of day—dusk. Designer Alison Berger captures the hues and effects of that moment in her Dusk Sconce for Holly Hunt. The crystal lens is hand carved. hollyhunt.com

10. Bring light to wherever you're sitting or perched through the Bianca Lamp (7 1/2" w. x 21" l. x 23 1/2" h) from Mitzi by Hudson Valley Lighting. The lamp is offered in aged brass and polished nickel. hudsonvalleylighting.com
