Corporate & Office Technology

In 1981, Ceratech began to manufacture and distribute products within the UK, Europe and the United States before opening a branch office in Paris. The main product portfolio covered EPOS, Industrial and Office peripherals.

Over the following years, Ceratech developed and registered the brand name Accuratus to cater for consumer products whilst launching a number of products into the retail sector. In the 1990's, Ceratech developed a range of products for the OEM channel and continues to partner with some.
