FORMULA 1 PELLETS

The Ultimate Competition Supplement

Elite performance horses undertaking rigorous training, travelling, competition or racing schedules may require additional support for their joints and muscles, digestive system, immune system and to maintain peak energy levels. Feeding several different supplements to meet these needs can be costly and time-consuming.

Formula 1™ can solve this problem, combining key ingredients from Equine America's top performance products into one palatable, easy to feed pellet to provide nutritional support for gastric health, joints, muscles, bones, hooves and the immune system, as well as a broad-spectrum mineral and vitamin supplement and probiotic.

What are the Benefits FORMULA 1 Pellets?
