We source the best quality materials, using the highest level archival and museum grade ink, papers and mountcard, so that our products last for many years and do not fade.

Francesca is proud to have built excellent relationships with her manufacturers, over the last decade. All her work is crafted in the UK. This helps ensure her products are of the highest quality.

AFRICA

PRINTS

Inspired by Francesca's regular trips to East Africa, where she paints and draws from life, returning to her studio to complete her work. Her art is popular in East Africa, where people who know and love the land and its wildlife, recognise her ability to convey the sense of movement and character in the animals she depicts. Francesca is also interested in the ecosystem that supports the animals that she paints, and uses her art to support conservation work. She is on the UK board of the Lewa Wildlife Conservancy in Kenya, and donates a percentage of her originals to conservation groups in East Africa and the UK.

Francesca's prints have been selling consistently well, both with UK retailers and in hotel and safari lodges. Year after year, her retailers continue to reorder her prints, which continue to sell steadily, ensuring a good revenue in their stores.

Each print comes mounted, backed with card, and cellophane wrapped. This makes them sturdy, easy to display and easy to keep clean. They are ready to be wrapped and given as a gift.

People like to find something a little different that they haven't seen elsewhere. Francesca only creates small limited edition runs, each hand signed and numbered, and made to the highest standard. She continues to create new prints, so there is always something new to add to the collection.

The prints are an ideal price point for a luxury gift. They are often bought for birthday and Christmas presents, and many people find the prints to be an ideal wedding gift.

The range is designed so that they can be bought in pairs and multiples. Many customers enjoy collecting the prints, and return to buy more repeatedly over time. Customers also often 'stock up' their present drawer, knowing that the prints can be kept for a long time, and still look brand new. They enjoy knowing that these prints are not found everywhere, are of the highest quality, and bring joy.

They are easy to give as a gift without worrying that the print will take up too much of the recipient's precious wall space.

The generous double mount means that a simple and inexpensive frame is all that is needed to hang the work. This makes them a luxurious piece of art work to receive as a gift, with no need for them to be rolled and unrolled. They fit neatly into a carry on travel bag, and are light.
