Finding bright moments amid the pandemic storm

ABOUT THE CREATORS

- Samantha Turnbull is an author, journalist and poetry-slam champion. Her work includes the Australian Broadcasting Corporation's hit kids' podcast Fierce Girls and the junior fiction series The Anti-Princess Club. Sam says 2020 taught her to slow down and be grateful
- Marta Antelo is a Spanish Illustrator who lived in Madrid for many years. She's published more than 20 titles around the world and has had her work published in The New York Times, Wall Street Journal and more. Marta moved from Madrid in 2020 and found peace and a new lifestyle away from the hubbub of a large city by the beach where she now works.

Remember the Rainbows

Written by Samantha Turnbull, Illustrated by Marta Antelo
 Hardback

- Written by journalist Sam Turnbull, Remember the Rainbows is a beautiful exploration of how humanity came together all over the globe to bring light and joy into each others lives - from a safe distance
- Designed to be a time capsule parents and children can share; this book is a great tool to help explain to young children the impact Coronavirus had on the world, while reminding them of the best part of humanity that shone
- Featuring a section at the back explaining in more detail the moments explored in the book, for example what is a elbow high five, why people put rainbows in their windows, or why the canals ran clear in Venice.
- Illustrated by Marta Antelo, best known for her work in the Little People, Big Dreams series

*As you look back,
 Don't worry, don't dwell,
 Remember the joy
 This time brought as well.*

The coronavirus pandemic transformed the lives of all of us in small and enormous ways. Among the panic, the sadness and the challenging moments, buds of human resilience grew and flourished. The rainbow of humanity that emerged from the storm of the global pandemic is made up of special moments of fragility, resilience and hope from around the world.

This book is a time capsule of these moments – the stormy ones, the flashes of joy, the sparks of innovation and bursts of kindness, as humanity assembled to embrace a new kind of normal. The real-life events featured in the poem and artwork are explored in greater detail through the descriptions included on the final pages.

Human Kind teaches the importance of a little good in a big world...

Human Kind: Respect

Written by Zanni Louise | Illustrated by Missy Turner

- Goes beyond EI (emotional intelligence) to explore VI (values intelligence)
- Encourages a 'more than me' view of the world, celebrating community values as the binding agent of relationships
- Is written with warmth, charm and simplicity, and through a cast of characters explores children's everyday experiences and identifies the important role values play in good decision making
- Each book includes supporting notes for parents and carers to extend the discussion of values at home or in classrooms
- Upcoming titles in the series include Teamwork

Respect is valuing another person, which makes them feel cared for and understood. You can respect others, your world and yourself. When we take time to listen and understand, respect grows. Respect brings people together. There are many ways to show respect.
