JULIA GILLARD

Jackie French could read entire novels by the time she was three years old. But when she arrived at school, letters appeared back to front, and maths equations were gobbledegook. Jackie was confused, but it didn't stop her from reading, writing, or coming up with astonishingly creative tales. Jackie read everything in sight, and then decided to write her own stories.

Based on the number 1 ABC Podcast Fierce Girls, this book features the inspiring stories of Julia Gillard, Jackie French, Layne Beachley, Celeste Barber and Evonne Goolagong-Cawley.

Even as a young girl, Celeste Barber always had a funny story that would make everyone laugh out loud. Celeste dreamed of starring in a TV comedy like Friends, but she went on to play a paramedic in a popular medical drama. And when that series flatlined, she used Instagram to take the world by storm, one funny photo at a time.

Each story focuses on detailing a brief history of their life before leading up to a pivotal moment that defined them as fierce girls and women of Australia.

Told through a fictional lens each story is told with humour, to engage readers and inspire them to take some life lessons from these real-life fierce girls!

Evonne Goolagong Cawley's first tennis racquet was a broomstick. Her second was a wooden paddle. It didn't hold her back. Evonne became the best tennis player in the world winning 14 grand slams and Wimbledon twice.

Containing stories about 5 iconic fierce Australian Girls, Fierce Girls is sure to be a family favourite!
