Remember the Rainbows

Written by Samantha Turnbull, Illustrated by Marta Antelo
 Hardback

- Written by journalist Sam Turnbull, Remember the Rainbows is a beautiful exploration of how humanity came together all over the globe to bring light and joy into each others lives - from a safe distance
- Designed to be a time capsule parents and children can share; this book is a great tool to help explain to young children the impact Coronavirus had on the world, while reminding them of the best part of humanity that shone
- Featuring a section at the back explaining in more detail the moments explored in the book, for example what is a elbow high five, why people put rainbows in their windows, or why the canals ran clear in Venice.
- Illustrated by Marta Antelo, best known for her work in the Little People, Big Dreams series

*As you look back,
 Don't worry, don't dwell,
 Remember the joy
 This time brought as well.*

The coronavirus pandemic transformed the lives of all of us in small and enormous ways. Among the panic, the sadness and the challenging moments, buds of human resilience grew and flourished. The rainbow of humanity that emerged from the storm of the global pandemic is made up of special moments of fragility, resilience and hope from around the world.

This book is a time capsule of these moments – the stormy ones, the flashes of joy, the sparks of innovation and bursts of kindness, as humanity assembled to embrace a new kind of normal. The real-life events featured in the poem and artwork are explored in greater detail through the descriptions included on the final pages.
