SCALP SHAMPOO

I have scalp eczema (seborrheic dermatitis), which means I constantly have to manage it. Having treatments that help bring down inflammation is so important. Diet and stress management help, too. I have a prescription for a shampoo with salicylic acid and also use Sachajuan Scalp Shampoo. My hair is really important to me. If it's not in place and looking good, I don't feel good. My sister is a hairstylist so we'll often do a pure aloe hair mask together. I'll get a hot oil treatment, too, which involves heating up jojoba or avocado or coconut oil and having it just sit on the scalp after the aloe moment.
