Hacienda Casblanca, Colombia

Our Farm is located in the Northeast area of Colombia, municipality of Floridablanca on the Vericute village in the department of Santander, with a native biodiversity and unparalleled water sources, define its location in the beautiful and productive mountains of the department of Santander, ideal for coffee growing under shade, which, together with good harvesting practices, results in a coffee with an outstanding profile of a cup, medium body, citrus and caramel flavors.

Hacienda Casablanca dates back to 1860, initially known as Villa Josefa, then it was called Hacienda la Leona and later Hacienda Casablanca, traditionally coffee land. Its initial land extension was approximately 150 hectares, therefore its category of Hacienda, as the large land areas are called in Colombia; however, this extension was subdivided into small plots, leaving today only 20 hectares, its main house is of an architecture from the mid-nineteenth century.

In 2006, it was acquired by its current owner Liliana Caballero Rojas and her family, She, Santandereana, daughter of peasant parents dedicated to agriculture, saw the difficulty of her life project, to give a better well-being to her family and the people who work permanently or at harvest time for HACIENDA CASABLANCA.

Her vision as an administration and finance professional helped to add value to her coffee plantations, achieving planning, with renewal of the old coffee plantations, to renewals by planting every year, which include varieties such as Castillo, Colombia, Tabi, Gesha and Pink Bourbon.

In 2008, with the help of the Federation of Coffee Growers of Colombia, she obtained her Rainforest Alliance certificate, from which she won her first prize, within the framework of the fair that takes place in the Municipality of Socorro (Santander). And the first place Cup Contest at the national level YARA CHAMPION PROGRAM, 2016 with a score of 89.48 and finalist the last two years 2017 and 2018.
