4. Do not fix any of the attachments when the appliance is ON. Please also make sure that the base of the attachment to be used, fits properly in the top casing of the base unit.
5. Never run the motor unit without the attachment and its cover in place. Wash the attachments thoroughly after use.
6. Do not keep the base unit on any cloth / paper while running it, as this may stop the flow of air, from the bottom of the mixer to the motor, resulting in overheating of the motor.
7. Do get the Rico serviced from our authorised service centres at least once a year. Keep the appliance away from children.

THERMAL CUT OUT (SUPER PROTECTION FOR ELECTRIC MOTOR)

Many Times , without realizing it, people tend to overload the mixer by putting more material in the jar than recommended. This results in the motor getting overloaded and eventually burning out.

In order to protect mixer grinder from burning out, we have now replaced the old design circuit breaker with an advanced overload protector known as a thermal cutout, in the motor. The thermal cutout is an advanced safety fuse which works on temperature & current sensing. This is a reset able fuse which is automatically reset by switching off the power supply and allowing the motor to cool.

In case, unintentionally, you overload the mixer and try to run it, the thermal cut out will trip automatically, cutting off the electric supply to the motor. Please follow the following steps

- 1) Switch off the main power supply switch
- 2) Remove the mains cord wire plug from the wall mains socket
- 3) Reduce the material in the jar.
- 4) Wait for 3 minutes without switching on the mains power supply. After waiting for 3 minutes, insert the plug again in the wall socket and restart the machine.
- 5) The machine will now start working and your motor has been saved from burning out.

In this way, the thermal cutout protects your motor from burning out and saves you from incurring any repairing costs.

DRY GRINDING

For this operation use the dry grinding jar with the fixed blade. This jar is suitable for dry grinding of coffee beans, rice, dals, coconuts, all types of masalas, pepper, red chillies, sugar, nuts, etc.

USEFUL TIPS

- Before grinding, all ingredients must be dried THOROUGHLY and if necessary, should be put in the oven for a short while so that all moisture gets evaporated.
- They should then be filled in the jar at least up to blade-level. For larger quantities, the jar should not be filled more than $\frac{3}{4}$ of its capacity.
- For fine grinding, grind the material and sieve the ground substance through a fine nylon sieve to the consistency required. The leftovers can then be put in the mixer, re-ground and sieved again.
- While grinding hard substances, like turmeric (haldi), please ensure that it is approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ inch in size and well pounded before putting in the jar for grinding.

If the AC Power supply cord wire is damaged in any way, then please take the appliance to the manufacturer or an authorized service centre for repairs / replacement only. Please do not attempt to get it repaired from an unauthorized person.

Wet Grinding / Blending / Liquidizing

For Wet Grinding

1. Soak material to be ground in water for 2 hrs. Drain water completely.
2. Fill material slightly above the blade level and run the mixer at low speed for 1 1/2 to 2 minutes, till it becomes a fine paste.

Note : While doing tough wet grinding, air bubbles may go inside the paste and the blade will rotate empty. Indication is that the noise will be heavy. When it is so, immediately stop the mixer, stir the paste with the spatula and start again.

To Grind Large Quantities With Liquid

1. Soak the material for 2 to 3 hours. If you want to grind parboiled rice, soak it for 6 to 8 hours. Drain water completely.'
2. Add the soaked material to fill 3/4 of the jar.
3. Now run the mixer at low speed. While the mixer is on, add water gradually till the paste becomes uniformly fine. Stop and stir in between to allow trapped air bubbles to escape and to allow circulation.

It will take 2-3 minutes to grind dal/rice. To grind parboiled rice, it may even take 5-6 minutes.
