General Operation Precautions

- 1. Make sure the rice cooker is connected to three pin, 5 Amp 230 volts AC socket only.
- 2. Turn off the main switch when the rice cooker is not in use.
- 3. Please keep the heating unit away from water or heat.

How to operate the Rice Cooker

- 1. Clean the rice, drain away the chaff and rice water in separate container.
- 2. After cleaning the rice, place the trivet inside the aluminum bowl. Now put the rice into the Aluminum bowl.
- 3. Pour the necessary amount of the water into the aluminum bowl depending on the quantity of rice. A good ratio is to pour 1 cup of rice and add 2 cups of water.
- 4. Place the aluminum bowl inside the rice cooker and move it around so as to make it touch closely with the heating plate.
- 5. Insert the plug into the AC socket. Switch on the power. At this time, the keep warm light will light up showing that the cooker is working.
- 6. Now push the switch down to the cook position and rice will start cooking. When the rice is well boiled & ready, the switch will automatically be released and move back to the keep warm position. Now keep the glass lid on for 10 minutes and the rice will get thoroughly cooked.
- 7. After the rice is ready, unplug the main cord from the power supply, remove the aluminum bowl, the rice is now ready to serve.

Precautions:

- 1. Keep the aluminum bowl & heating plate clean. No rice grain, dust or any other foreign matter should be allowed to remain between the bottom of the aluminum bowl and the surface of the heating plate, otherwise the cooker's performance will be affected and in serious case, its parts or element may burn out.
- 2. Prevent the bottom from being damaged or bumped otherwise the cooker may be deformed, thereby affecting the performance of the cooker.
- 3. Don't immerse the rice cooker into the water. Clean it with a piece of soft and damp cloth when soiled.
- 4. Don't use the cooker to boil acid or alkaline foodstuff. Don't keep the cooker in corrosive gases or damp places.
- 5. Do not place the cooker near any heat or fuel or inflammable substance.
- 6. This appliance is not intended for use by persons (including children) with reduced physical, sensory or mental capabilities, or lack of experience and knowledge, unless they have been given supervision or instruction concerning use of the appliances by a person responsible for their safety.
