Fortus Flame was established in 2020 on a farm in America's Heartland by identical twin brothers, myself (Jordon) and my brother (Jerrod). It began as a metal sign shop and gradually evolved into a leading smokeless fire pit company. Growing up on a central Illinois farm instilled in us a strong work ethic, where hard work was ingrained in our upbringing.

Weekends spent outdoors were synonymous with bonfires shared with friends and family. However, as winter approached, storing the fire pit became an annual challenge. It occupied excessive garage space and was poorly made, lasting only a single season.

Frustrated by these recurring issues, my brother and I were determined to revolutionize the fire pit experience. Drawing upon our metalworking skills, we engineered a collapsible fire pit for convenient storage and travel. Furthermore, we innovated to make it smokeless.

Today, our fire pits offer a worry-free experience enjoyed by people worldwide. Bulky, substandard fire pits are a thing of the past as we continue to redefine outdoor enjoyment for all.
