

Wallapalooza!

At our first-ever celebration of wallcoverings, designers dished on how they'd use these bold picks.

"This black-and-white brushstroke would be interesting on a ceiling or in an entire vestibule."

THIS YEAR, THE LA CIENEGA Design Quarter in Los Angeles held its 13th annual LEGENDS event. But the festival also saw a major first: House Beautiful hosted its inaugural Wallapalooza, a celebration of wallcoverings from different design houses. We asked 15 interior designers to meet us at the Gracie Showroom, pick out a pattern, and tell us where they'd use it. Their answers will inspire you.
