

Rothco Speedlace Jungle Boot - 8 Inch

Looking for a military-style all-purpose boot built to sustain rugged environments? Rothco's G.I. Type Speedlace Jungle Boot is designed like no other, providing optimum stability, grip, and protection for combat, combat training, and paintball and airsoft play. Designed with a nylon coated brass speedhook and eyelet lacing system, the tactical boots can be quickly and tightly tied so you can get back to the battlefield. The military jungle boots are constructed with a non-slip panama rubber outsole for improved traction while navigating through tough terrain. Containing a midsole pine board and removable cushion insole, the Panama sole jungle boot's interior design allows you to endure long days on your feet. Additionally, the Army combat boots measure 8" high, and feature a padded collar and sponge lining for added support and all-day comfort. The upper section is built to withstand anything from a long work day to military training with a canvas, nylon, leather and polyester construction.
