FROM THE BEERENBERG FAMILY FARM

People always ask “why is it that Beerenberg strawberries taste so good? They’re so sweet and juicy and full of flavour.” It was no accident. It’s a story of risk, hard work and a long term commitment.

Almost 200 years ago, George and Anna Paech and their young family embarked on a courageous journey from their home in German-speaking Prussia to South Australia, a land they knew little about, on the other side of the world.

They were willing to take the risk because they dreamed of a happy life here, free to farm and build prosperous and healthy lives for themselves and for future generations.

They were fortunate to settle on land in the Adelaide Hills, which offered nutrient rich soil with gentle north-facing slopes, perfect for growing fruit and vegetables. They worked hard over the years, seeing themselves as stewards of the land, whilst cultivating their craft of food production.

Six generations later, the Paech family, still 100% own, farm and live on the property, which is now known as The Beerenberg Family Farm. The name Beerenberg means ‘Berry Hill’ in German, a nod to heritage, the produce and the hillside location.

The Paech family stake their reputation on every product they make. Everything is made on-site, at the farm. They are proud to continue the families’ tradition of farming, land stewardship and food craftsmanship.
