...THERE IS NOTHING GREAT GREAT IN ANY OR YET IN EXCEPT THE MERE BEING THE FEELER OF THE FEELER AND INTO A GREATER MEAN OF SELF-SUBSTITUTION.

Pop Fly Pop Shop embarked on its journey on June 12th, 2020, fueled by a dream that persists to this day. As an artist, achieving any kind of success is challenging, sustaining it even more so. Earning a livelihood from one's art is exceptionally rare, akin to finding a unicorn. Having my work collected by anyone, let alone so many, was beyond my wildest dreams, each moment feeling surreal.

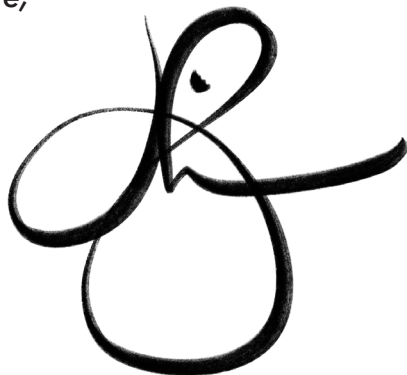

In this checklist, you'll find a compilation of work created under the Pop Fly Pop Shop banner since its inception. The artistic journey is inherently messy, with lines often blurred regarding what to include, exclude, how to categorize it, and so forth. My aim here was to lay everything out as logically, clearly and succinctly as possible. Note that this list will not feature works that are Pop Fly adjacent or predate the shop's creation. Maybe that will be included in a future iteration but for this one, those works are not represented.

This checklist isn't definitive, exhaustive or final; it's a reflection of a moment in time, destined to grow with each passing season. Alongside the regular updates, I anticipate incorporating feedback from our collectors to continually refine this list. Consider this a work in progress. I'm genuinely open to suggestions, corrections, or comments you might have. Your input is invaluable in making this checklist a more useful resource.

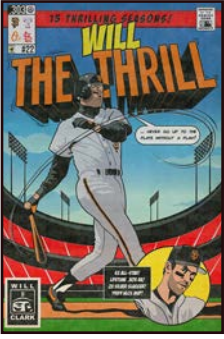

I'm incredibly humbled by the support this project has received. This checklist is a small way of giving back to a community that has given me so much. Thank you for your contributions in making it even better with each iteration.

And, of course, I must express my gratitude. Thank you for embarking on this journey with me – a journey that started in a spare bedroom during lockdown and has since evolved into something I could never have imagined. Your support has been the backbone of this project, enabling Pop Fly to flourish and contribute to the communities and causes that we and our collectors care deeply about. For all of this, I am forever thankful.

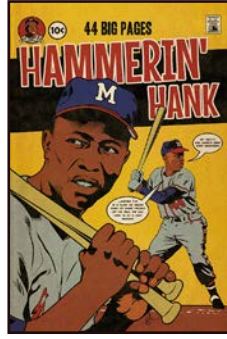

With much gratitude,

This is a collection is an eclectic mix of special releases, anomalies, experiments, errors, and bonus items, all of which were produced beyond the standard Pop Fly series and don't fit into any of the previous categories. Among these are pieces that have been included in orders, as well as rarities that have seldom, if ever, been shared publicly. The aim of including them here is to offer a more complete record of what's been created.

Since its inception, Pop Fly Pop Shop has embraced stickers as a fundamental element, tapping into the nostalgia and simplicity of childhood collectibles. The vision behind them is to elevate them beyond mere ephemera, transforming them into art pieces as esteemed as any print. Far from being throwaway items, these stickers are designed to be highly accessible yet highly collectible works of art, each with its own unique value and charm.

In the packages, a creative touch has always been an important element. The journey began with the inclusion of traditional business cards but soon evolved into a more unique offering: a collectible series of "tickets" accompanying each box. These tickets, akin to limited edition pop fly prints, were crafted to be collectible and limited in quantity. As each design was used until exhaustion, a new one was created, with the gate number on the ticket increasing sequentially. The first two tickets in the series were unnumbered, but starting from the third, numbering commenced and continued in sequence. A notable exception is the Hall of Fame ticket, distinct in its lack of numbering and exclusive availability with items from the Hall of Fame.

Experimentation has been a constant theme, leading to the inclusion of Pop Fly Weepuls, a staple from 1980s school functions, in lieu of baseball cards in some packages. These Weepuls, designed to be collectible, featured six different color ribbons, a commitment to providing not just art pieces, but a unique and nostalgic collecting experience.

Created in late 2020, this mini set was initially conceptualized as a test for potential Pop Fly products. Although it didn't lead to further development, starting from the 2022 All-Star Game, these previously uncirculated 5x7 mini prints have been used as exclusive in-person giveaways at various events. While the print runs are documented and precise, the prints themselves are not numbered nor signed. Currently, there are no immediate plans to reprint these in their existing form, but this remains a possibility, albeit an unlikely one.

16-Piece NLBM Mini Art Gallery

At the 2020 NLBM Virtual Art Show and Benefit Sale, supporting the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum, the Pop Fly submission intended to break convention with a 16 piece set, showcasing the rich legacy of the Negro Leagues by bringing full mini art gallery directly into collectors' homes. This approach adapted creatively to the limitations of the pandemic and intended to be a novel approach to enrich the audience's engagement with the league's enduring legacy.

In late 2021, an interesting turn of events brought Daniel Jacob Horine of Pop Fly Pop Shop into a unique collaboration with Topps. It began with artist King Saladeen's announced release of a Mickey Mantle card for Project70, which inadvertently featured Pop Fly #53. The Commerce Comet, prominently in the background. Surprisingly, this incident led to a positive connection between the artists, culminating in a collaborative effort on a Deion Sanders card for Project70. This collaboration opened doors for further partnerships with Topps when Horine was selected as part of the exclusive 20-artist roster for Topps' Project100 in 2022.
