THE HOLBORN B5 & B8 SHOW FLAT

SHAU KEI WAN | HONG KONG

A key design feature is the central display shelf made of brown stainless steel, patterned glass, and marble, replacing the original partitions. This not only introduces more light sources into the areas but also enhances the overall space and storage capacity of the unit. The display shelf combines with the lighting glass suspended panels, adding visual appeal and beauty to the room's entrance.

The designer has created a young and fashionable minimalist romantic style for the unit, with a predominant theme of minimalist French design. In the living and dining area, the designer incorporated a full-length wooden grid pattern as a backdrop, with a textured off-white fabric sofa and a vibrant orange glass coffee table. The combination of beige and wood tones, along with the striking orange, creates a warm and stylish atmosphere in the entire living room.

In the dining area, an irregularly shaped marble dining table was placed, accompanied by a simple Japanese-inspired decorative plant in one corner. This brings a sense of tranquility and softness to the dining experience after a busy day.

In the master bedroom, the designer chose three different materials to create a unique headboard and display shelf. The textured off-white wallpaper creates a warm and harmonious feeling, while the resin material with a faux leather pattern adds a touch of creative taste. The suede headboard connects to a multi-functional marble dressing table, creating an elegant and comfortable sense of fashion. The illuminated glass shelves not only increase storage space but also enhance the visual appeal and ambiance upon entering the room.

For storage purposes, the designer also provided the owner a raised platform covered with soft carpet, which hides LED light strips along the edges. This serves as both a convenient lighting solution for nighttime and as an atmospheric element. Combined with abstract paintings and delicate crystal decorations, the overall design creates a minimalist French romantic atmosphere, offering the residents a versatile and cozy living space to enjoy their lives.
