

ANDREW MARTIN

Bamileke

Stool, Black

A circular black wooden stool, with a lattice design through the sides. Bamileke is named after the native group of Cameroon's grasslands, known for their colourful beadwork and masks and rich cultural traditions. This stool, or side table, is carved from a singular tree trunk, recalling the tribe's connection to nature and their spiritual heritage. Each stool will vary slightly in height and diameter from the designs pictured, as they are each carved by hand.

Please note that these stools are sold individually, so the price displayed is for one stool only.

Specification

Product	ACC2724
Code:
Product	45 (cm)
Height:
Product	60 (cm)
Diameter:
Weight:	5 (kg)
Collection:	Signature
Boxed	2 STOOLS PER PACKAGING.
Dimensions:
EU	94036010
Commodity
Code:

Additional Information: N.B the diameter and height stated above is just a guide, as each individual, hand crafted stool varies in size.

