Dining Table

Polished white marble dining table

A perfect table to gather friends and enjoy the pleasures of a beautiful meal, the Junction dining table is a place of meeting. The richness of the cool marble contrasted with the strong rustic timber legs creates a stunning combination.

Marble's naturally porous surface will develop its own patina with use and wear, etched with its own story over time. Each marble table top will have its own individual marble graining, as it's natural material, and will be very, very similar to the pictures shown. Best suited to covered areas outside with some protection from the elements, or looks beautiful indoors in your living room.
