Elegance meets function

Today, these cherished parasols grace gardens, beaches, balconies, terraces, and outdoor restaurants, adding the final touch to any outdoor space. They are used by those seeking tranquility as well as by those enjoying conversations with near and dear.

Each parasol has an anodized aluminum pole with a diameter of 40 mm and a height of 160 cm, featuring spring extension and a wind-resistant locking system. The chemical-free fabric is wrapped around 10 curved, galvanized, and painted steel ribs, making them resistant to salt and weather. The curvature of the ribs serves not only an aesthetic function but also increases wind resistance.

Bold humility that captures attention

Mirlo's carefully selected materials and an extensive color palette seamlessly blend these parasols into any landscape, infusing character and style into outdoor spaces. Crafted in Italy in collaboration with leading gardening and interior design experts, Mirlo parasols stand as an architectural statement envisioned by landscape architect Anna Lundberg:

” - An impeccable parasol not only beckons attention but also transforms any area into a retreat. For an outdoor cafe, they become an invitation — ‘come, sit, and linger’. On the beach, they offer a welcoming gesture inviting you to – ‘come, lay down, and unwind’. They should cater to those seeking shelter from refreshing rain as well as those seeking shade from scorching sun. ”

The different colors and patterns allow you to express your style – you can tell your story simply by displaying your choice of parasol. Whether mixing vibrant hues or opting for monochrome sophistication, your style defines your narrative.
