

Connexus Column

Turn empty wall space into a versatile functional training station with Connexus Column. A space-efficient design includes a height-adjustable handle that secures straps and multiple bands for streamlined transitions and progressions. Smart device storage keeps training apps in view, and built-in storage keeps unused bands out of the way.

- Ideal for functional training with resistance bands and suspension straps in limited-space areas
- Moveable low, mid and high attachment points offer training flexibility
- Training handle offers easy accessory attachment and accommodates multiple resistance bands for quick transitions and efficient progressions
- Integrated device storage keeps smartphones safely off the ground and in view for use with functional training apps while amplifying device sound
- Built-in storage keeps bands out of the way and easily accessible
- Space-efficient design mounts securely to the wall
