BO BO AND CHA CHA COOK UP A STORM

EPIGRAM BOOKS / SINGAPORE

Bo Bo and Cha Cha are eating an early lunch at their favourite hawker stall in Toa Payoh. Mr Pan has served them rojak, and the fruits and vegetables are tasty, covered with a spicy sweet sauce and crunchy peanut bits. Yummers!

Suddenly, Mr Pan rushes back over to their table.
“My friends!” he says. “My little Angeline has fallen ill and I must drive her to the doctor. Can you please take over my stall for a while? I will be back before the famous chef Ram Gordon arrives for a tasting. Rojak is very easy to make, no problem.”

“Sure, Mr Pan,” says Cha Cha.
“We would be happy to help.”
“Oh, thank goodness!” he says. “You are wonderful pandas. The instructions are inside my stall. I have to go! Goodbye!”

Mr Pan's rojak stall is small but very organised. The ingredients are all displayed on shelves in the front window; the you tiao keeps warm under heat lamps.

"Here it is!" says Bo Bo. "Okay, step one: chop the cucumber and green mango."

"I can do that," Cha Cha says. "Chopping is easy, but I have to be careful so I don't cut myself."

When a friend asks Bo Bo and Cha Cha to fill in for him at his rojak stall, the pandas are eager to help out. But do they have what it takes to make delicious rojak? It turns out that they do!

Find out what their secret is in this delightful new Bo Bo and Cha Cha story.
