

PROGRAM INFORMATION:

The Pedro Martinez Foundation is launching its Massachusetts Mentoring Program that will provide hands on care for the underserved youth in Boston, Lawrence and other areas in Massachusetts. Unfortunately, in many low income public school districts the youth are not getting the resources they need to develop their talents and skills, but instead are exposed too often to gangs, drugs, teen pregnancy and are in need of money which is causing them to drop out of school. The Pedro Martinez Foundation is partnering with school districts and city officials to bring change in these communities and to help provide the youth a brighter future through sports development, activation events, mentoring, supplying needed resources and other essential programs. We are asking for donors and corporate organizations to partner with us and help provide these youth with the resources and care they need.

National studies show the following results when youth are in healthy programs:

- They are more likely to graduate High School.
- They have higher GPA'S.
- Score higher on standardized tests.
- Have a lower rate of absences.

Join us to help the youth in Massachusetts overcome these obstacles and have a brighter future!
