

If you like to work autonomously, drive, and deliver high-quality products to the good beer retailers and bars of Melbourne, please read on...

We're seeking a unique individual to join our crew, someone who can assist our sales team by receiving our made-in Brisbane, sorting and preparing each day's run, and delivering around Melbourne and the wider region. You will be behind the wheel of our new chariot, and the candidate should be able to nail a reverse parallel park, listen to a podcast in traffic, and greet each location with a smile.

This role is for a part-time position with a minimum of 15 hours per week. Applicants must be available from Tuesday to Thursday each week.

The delivery drivers responsibilities at Range Brewing will involve:

- Receive deliveries from the logistics company and unpack into the warehouse.
- Ensure that all deliveries are made in a prompt and timely manner
- Follow the delivery route provided, allowing for adjustments on the fly.
- Pack the van in a safe and secure manner ensuring that the load is secure and the vehicle is safe to drive.
- Communicate with sales team regarding an issues or concerns that arise before, during or after a delivery run
- Represent Range Brewing to the highest possible standard, including personal presentation as well as customer service

This role requires:

- ability to work independently as well as communicate with the sales team and company directors.
- the maintenance of high standards
- open Australian driving licence (C Class) with no recent disqualifications
- a curious mind and a preference for prevention rather than cure
- physical capabilities required for the role include but are not limited to the ability to lift a 30L keg of beer and a 50L keg of beer
- fluent written and spoken English; the ability to write articulately and succinctly

The person will be:

- careful and diligent - with a good dose of common sense
- demanding of high standards and at ease with demanding people
- efficient, effective and organised, in both the physical and digital worlds
- modestly confident and also personable, good humoured and trustworthy
- at home in the worlds of beer and design
- mindful of the limited resources of our planet
- comfortable with a busy day and flexible on start and finish times
- informal but 100% professional

We will offer a rewarding workplace to work in, where we are all working towards a common goal. We aim to build long-term relationships with our customers, suppliers and employees by treating them respectfully, and by demonstrating that we are committed to them. You will have the opportunity to expand your beer knowledge and have access to the benefits of working in a brewery. If you are interested in applying, please email your resume and cover letter to hello@rangebrewing.com with a short brief of your experience. We are looking for the right candidate to fit our culture, please let us know why you think you'd fit in and what attributes you can bring to the team. We need to know that you want to work with us, not that you just want a job.