VICTOR GLEMAUD

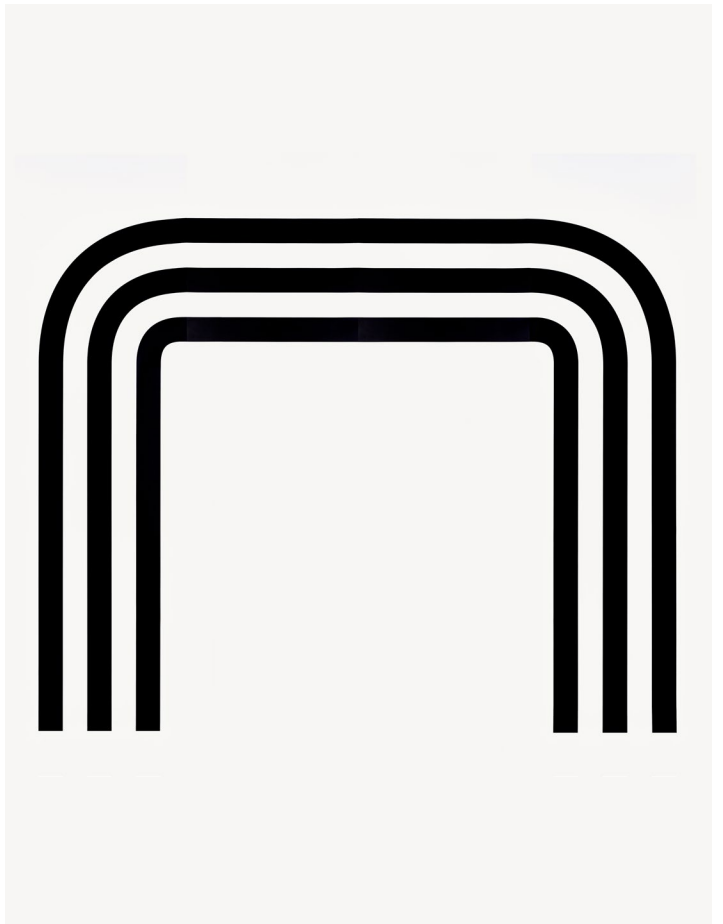

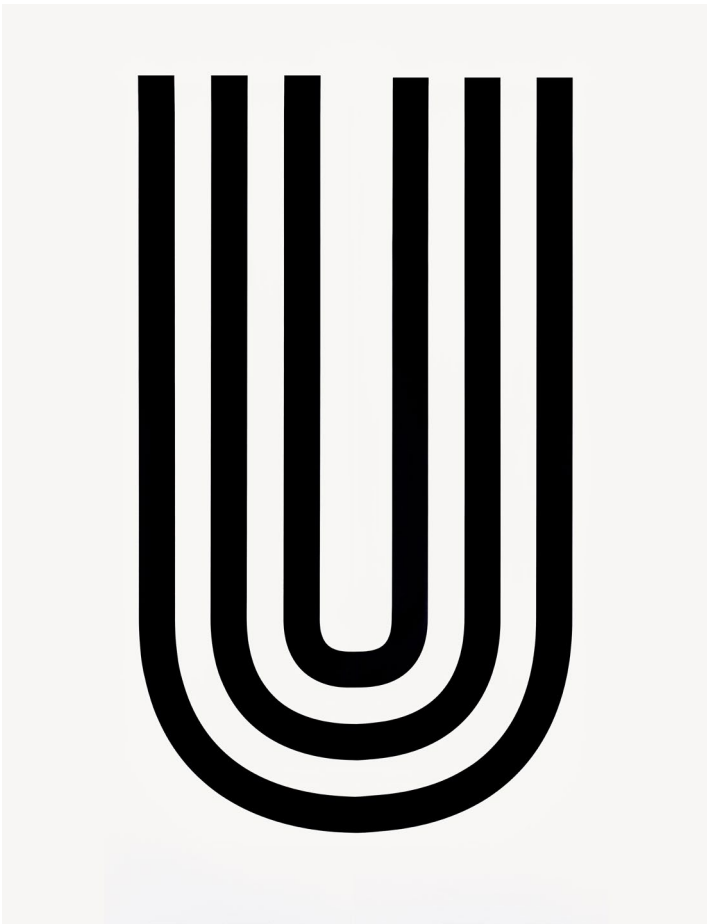

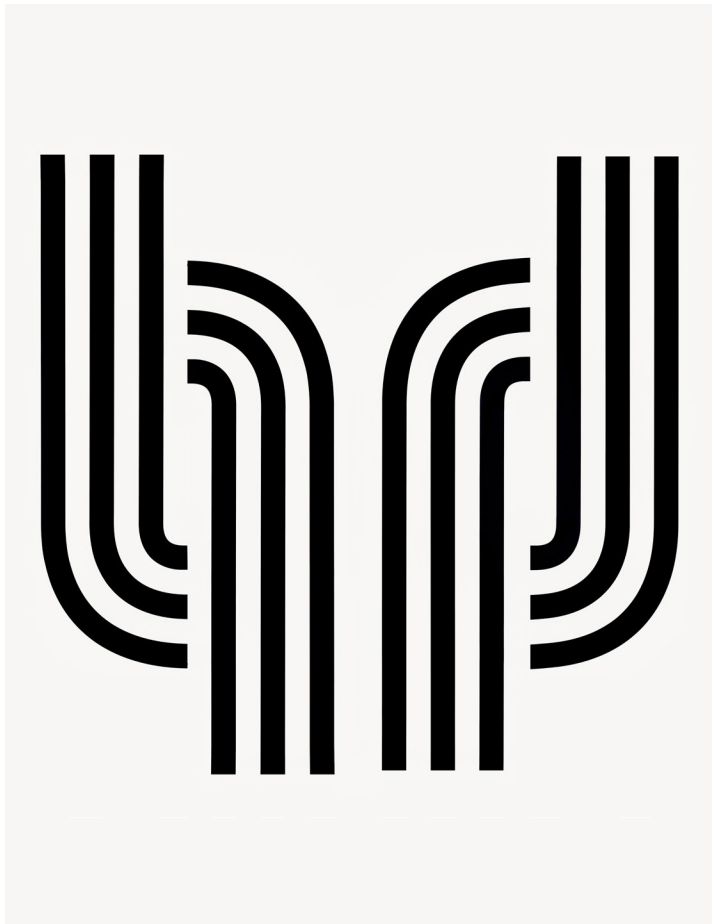

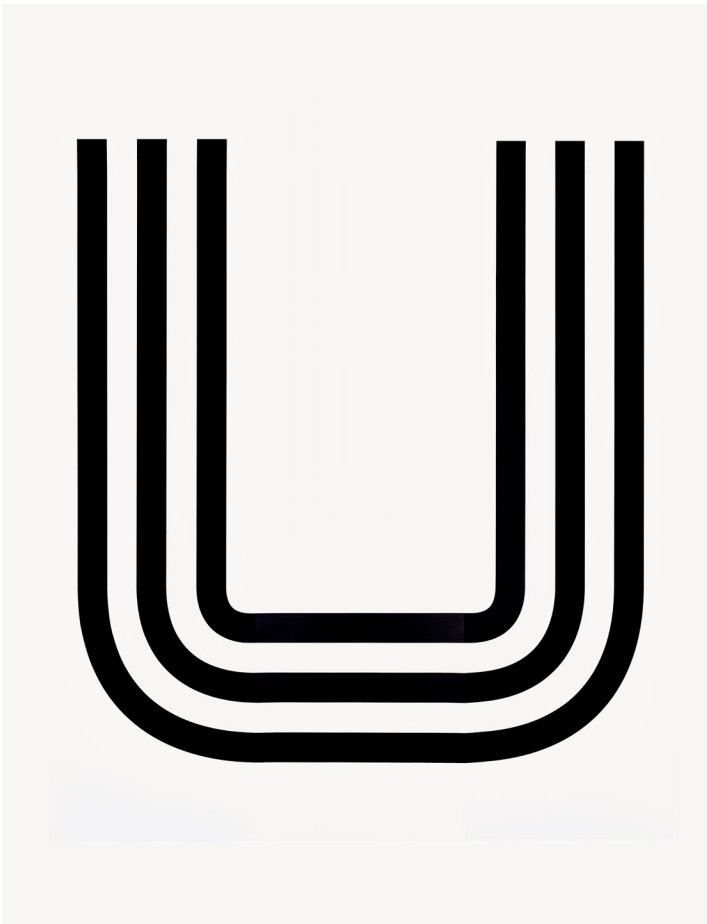

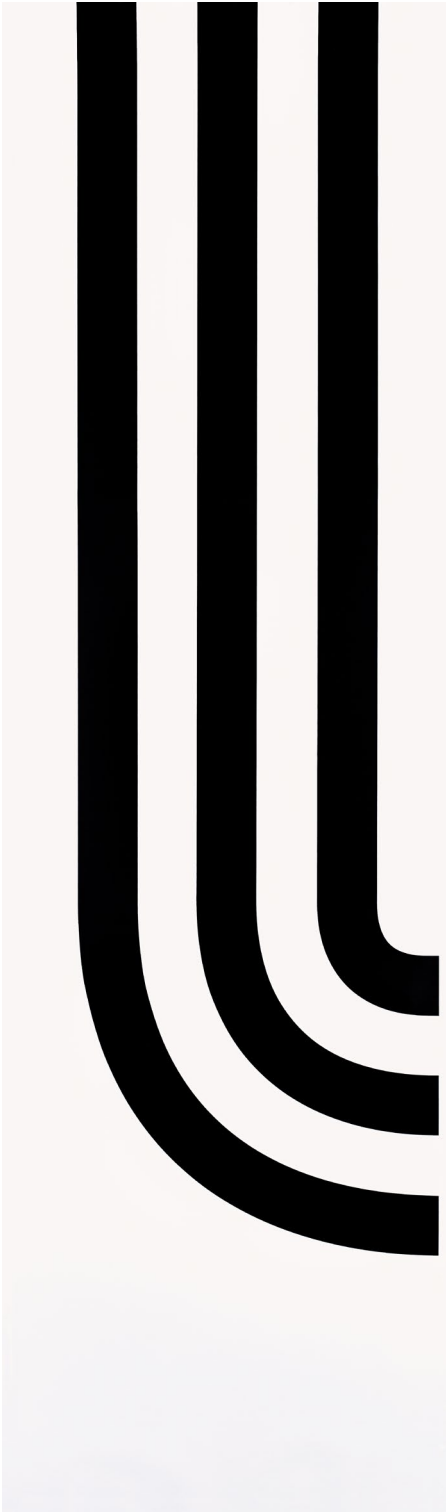

Since the 1930 debut of our collaboration with couturier Paul Poiret, Schumacher has rejoiced in a succession of exciting fashion-inspired collections, including Cul-De-Sac, a gorgeous portfolio of fabrics, wallpapers and trims by Haitian-American designer Victor Glemaud. Bringing his distinct sartorial perspective indoors, Glemaud has delivered a runway of toiles, velvets, botanical prints, shibori and even a 1970s-inspired statement panel set. From his toile de Jouy, which references historic scenes celebrating Haiti's liberation and Caribbean culture, to his hand-painted hibiscus pattern to a stylish offset chevron velvet, tout est chic!

A versatile designer whose statement knitwear designs range from colorful and exuberant to pared-down and minimal, Victor Glemaud founded his eponymous fashion label in 2006. While he was a student at New York City's Fashion Institute of Technology, Glemaud was a design assistant to Patrick Robinson and later worked for Paco Rabanne and Tommy Hilfiger. Glemaud was a CFDA/ Vogue Fashion Fund finalist in 2017 and honored for his achievements by the Ambassador of Haiti to the United States. In 2021, he created a hugely successful line of affordable, inclusive apparel and accessories for Target and launched IN THE BLK, a global network for Black creatives to unify, build solidarity and economic independence.
