MD Skin

Anti-Aging Cosmeceuticals

Aging of the skin is a process influenced by many different factors, including the environment, sun exposure, health habits and heredity. When we are young, the body has the ability to regenerate billions of cells daily. Unfortunately, as we age, we are unable to replace elastin and collagen as fast as it is being lost. The end result is lackluster skin with fine lines and wrinkles.

It's important to use products that help give us the benefit of ingredients that stimulates collagen and elastin production which has the potential to slow down the aging process.

MD Ultimate Purifying Cleansers

MD Purifying Cream Wash for the benefits of botanicals

This incredibly gentle cream wash cleans and nourishes the skin with natural botanical extracts including aloe vera, cucumber, chamomile, kelp, yarrow, orange peel, and rose extracts. Because this cleanser is concentrated, only a dime-sized amount is required. Recommended for normal to dry skin types.

MD Purifying Foam Wash to gently exfoliate

This extraordinary cleanser reaches a little deeper and lifts away the most stubborn impurities. Formulated with a gentle fruit acid complex (AHA) to gently slough dead cells from the skin's surface. Recommended for normal to dry skin types.

MD Mineral Block SPF 58

Protects the skin from aging and sun damage

This lightweight, mineral-based sunscreen provides oil-free protection from the sun's harmful UVA and UVB rays. These rays are known to cause hyperpigmentation, wrinkles, and skin cancer.

This powerful sunblock contains a medical-grade block of different particle sizes to effectively build an impassable physical barrier against the sun's harmful rays.

MD Mineral Sunblock is formulated with a slight tint – making it easily blendable.

MD Stem Cell
Conditioned Media
Derived Peptides (ADSCs)

A revolutionary anti-aging aesthetic treatment

ADSCs is an emerging, cutting-edge aesthetic treatment using purified peptides extracted from adult adipose (fatty tissue) stem cell cultures. It's a mixture of growth factors, cytokines and protein that impede cellular anti-aging.

ADSCs work by communicating with skin cells to regenerate—leading to wrinkle repair, improved thickness and firming of skin, whitening of skin color and the regeneration of hair.

There are many advantages of ADSCs over current aesthetic treatments. Most common procedures are controlled injuries that induce growth factors. ADSCs delivers results without injury and minimal down time. Clinical studies are proving this to be highly effective, fast acting, and easy to administer with high patient satisfaction.
