

NuFACE + Skincare I'm Trying.

First up is the Myrtle Leaf micellar gel by Ustawi.

Have you ever tried a micellar gel?

So far I'm loving that you don't need cotton pads to use it.

I work it into my skin then use my Face Halo to clean it off. Next step for me is my cleanser.

Tip: If I have a super beat face that day, I start with an oil or balm before micellar water. So that's 3 steps on a day like that.

Back to this micellar gel.

Key ingredients and claims:

Aside from myrtle leaf to help detoxify, it also contains baobab fruit which apparently has vitamin C but I'm not sure how that is super beneficial in this step of skincare. It also has something called biosaccharide g4 to help against environmental stress and of course micelles to dissolve and trap impurities.

Earlier this year I tried another micellar gel. It was my first experience with a gel texture in this category. It looked so cool and I wanted to love it but I immediately had to rinse it off because of how much it irritated my skin.

Needless to say, I was hesitant but so far this new one is working out.

EhlieLuna.com | January 3, 2022

NuFace + Skincare I'm Trying

Myrtle Leaf Micellar Water Gel

UVM: 1,860

Link: HERE