Leland Francis is gearing up to launch their Body Radiance Balin, a product we've been waiting to get our hands on for summer. A blend of floral and oils to keep skin hydrated and soft to touch, and of course, another great vegan and cruelty-free option that pushes for sustainability in its recycled and biodegradable materials.

Summer is starting strong, so protecting yourself should always be a priority. We love Unsun's Mineral Sunscreen Lotion for Face and Body because it has a broad spectrum SPF 30 that's water-resistant and good for all skin types. It's an excellent choice for men, and with Father's Day coming up, this is definitely on the top of our list for gift options.

RADIATE by Amanda Pavillard brings out your inner glow with a set of stunning and healthy products for your skin with moisturizing, acne-fighting, and soothing ingredients. Perfect partners for your daily routine! Amanda and her two older sisters formulate this exclusive collection as they push to create a clean beauty company that gives back and helps others radiate from within.

ROEN gives you a dreamy set of lips that go from natural and luscious while not looking overly sticky. We always have been huge fans of their Kiss My Lip balm because of its glossy sheen that remains smooth with a fresh, shiny finish. You can quickly go from nude to romantically bold with different shades to choose from.

USTAWI, meaning "wellness" in Swahili, has created a line of products to prevent skin from becoming damaged by free radicals and pollution and help with uneven tones. A key favorite of ours is their Bamboo Water Protection Mist which has proven to be a great setting spray, the proper barrier needed to keep makeup strong through the day.
