

Caribou Gifts

I Caribou You

The 2023
Holiday Collection

Hello, it's nice to meet you

My name is Megan Munro and I am the founder and owner of Caribou Gifts. Caribou Gifts is a family owned and operated business with big goals to change the gifting industry by doing things differently. We offer ethically sourced gifts and gift baskets for all ages. We prioritize sourcing from Canadian, women-owned brands and donate a percentage of all sales to local community-based organizations.

My professional background is in supply chain and operations. I am an engineer by training but an entrepreneur at heart. Caribou Gifts started as a passion project when on maternity leave with my middle daughter Zoe and has grown from being an online only store to having an online store, a brick and mortar location and a growing number of corporate clients. Pictured above you will see me, my husband and our three daughters: Emilia, Zoe and Maya. My daughters are my motivation, my inspiration and my cheerleaders. I want them to grow up understanding entrepreneurship and seeing what hard work can build.

This past year we settled into our retail store in Toronto's Junction neighbourhood (228 Mavety St). We love the community we are located in and getting to know our customers. These daily customer interactions connect us to our community and help ensure we are constantly sourcing and stocking the best products. We proudly have the widest selection of products of any gift basket company in Canada, allowing you to build the perfect custom gift basket for any occasion.

We know how important it is to be able to send high quality, unique and meaningful gifts to friends, family and clients. We are so grateful to be a trusted source for your gifting needs. Thank you for your commitment to supporting small business. On behalf of my family and the entire Caribou Gifts team I want to wish you a Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays to you and yours the upcoming season.

Sincerely,

Megan Munro

Giving Back to the Community

During our first three years in business we donated over $15,000 in cash and thousands more in kind to a variety of local charities and community organizations.

This year we have committed to donate 1% of our top line sales to The Daily Bread Food Bank to help with the growing concerns surrounding food insecurities. We also donated to the Indian Residential School Survivors Society in September for National Truth and Reconciliation Month.

Over 50 Google reviews

Highly recommend Caribou Gifts for treating friends, loved ones, and clients to something special. The owner Megan is super helpful, and will even help you customize a basket if you're looking for something extra curated. My go-to!

- Miranda

The Caribou team were uber responsive and helpful with our holiday order of baskets for our clients. They had great suggestions and were very accommodating with customizing some individual baskets. The baskets were delivered early and looked great! Don't hesitate to order with them.
