

Honduras Coffee

Guinope LIFT Cluster

Guinope Natural ML LIFT

Honduras is the largest coffee producer in Central America and behind only Colombia and Brazil for all of Latin America. However, it was not such a big player until recently, with most of their coffee destined to commercial grades. But reinvestment by the government into technical assistance and infrastructure has increased the quality nationwide.

This coffee comes from our Guinope LIFT cluster, in the southeastern region of Honduras near the Nicaragua border. This cluster is currently in their third year with the program, and we have seen great results. Through LIFT, our farms have realized a 50% increase in production and a similar increase in coffee, increasing the overall sustainability of the farms. All the farms participating in LIFT are Rainforest Alliance certified.
