Remember...

We strongly recommend looking after these instructions, after all without them it will be a bit tricky to put this product together. Even though we know our customers are more intelligent than most, we still think you may find these instructions useful.

But if something unexpected were to happen, such as,

Your dog ate them or...

your children constructed a kite out of them?

Maybe your neighbour ran over it with their car?

You would have nothing to fear because we have uploaded all of our instructions to our website:
www.gardengames.com

Attaching the Ball Spacers

You will need:

The six top poles (parts A) and the six ball spacers (parts D).
One of the nylon strings.

Lay the six 'A' poles down side by side with the six 'D' spacer balls placed between them.

Thread the string through the holes in the alternating poles and spacer balls, leaving small and even gaps.

Tie the ends of the string together so the poles form a complete circle.

Assembling the Canvas

You will need:

The assembled six top poles (parts A) and the six ball spacers (parts D) - from step 1.
The canvas.

Lay the canvas flat and slot the six 'A' poles downwards through the opening at the top of the canvas

Securing the Top Poles

Slide each top pole (parts A) through the six upper elastic loops on the inside of the canvas.

Important Note:

The poles must be inserted through the correct loops in turn so that they still form a circle when inside the canvas.

Connecting the Bottom Poles

You will need:

The six bottom poles (parts B), plastic connectors (part C) and the pre-assembled top poles and canvas from steps 1, 2 and 3.

Slide the bottom poles (parts B) through the lower elastic loops inside the canvas.

Connect the top and bottom poles (parts A and B) one by one around the inside of the canvas, using the plastic connectors (parts C) taking care that 2 pole sections you are connecting together pass through the loops on the same seam of the canvas

Important Note:

Ensure the ends of the poles are fully inserted for maximum strength at the joint.

In this diagram you can see a gap - push the poles together until there is no longer a gap.

Securing the Bottom Poles

Slot the ends of the bottom poles (parts B) into the pockets at the bottom on the inside of the canvas.

Completing the Structure

Stand the wigwam upright, pull the drawstring tight at the top of the canvas and tie together to prevent the canvas from slipping down.

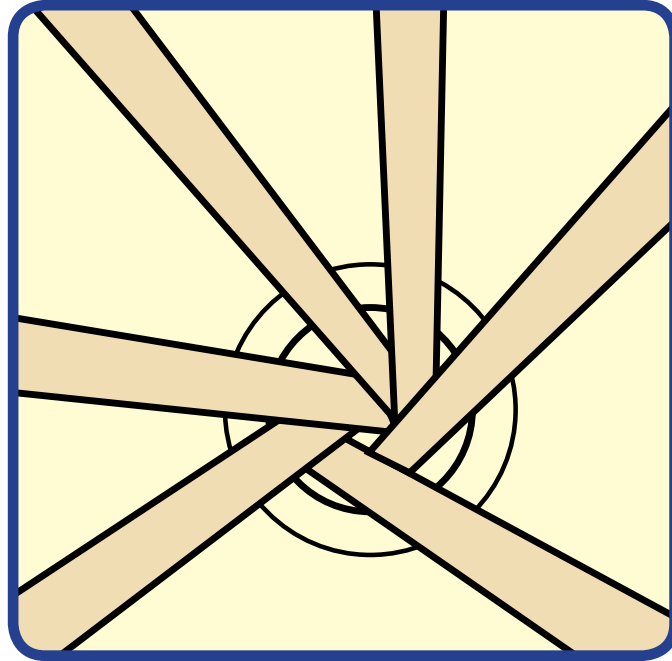

Adjusting Your Wigwam Teepee

Now you have completed your teepee structure, all you need to do is adjust it to create a firm base.

Spread the poles outwards from the bottom until the canvas is taut, pulling two adjacent poles at a time (you may need to re-adjust the tightness of the drawstring).

The top of your wigwam should look like this from the inside:

Now you can sit back while your children enjoy hours of fun in their fabulous new den (even if we do say so ourselves!)

Inspection & Maintenance

We recommend the following maintenance.

Looking After Your Wigwam/Teepee

Your Wigwam/Teepee is made from a really thick cotton canvas material. It has been treated with a special kind of water-resistant coating to keep it looking good and to protect it during a very light, unexpected rain shower. Despite this, it will not resist heavy rain so we would recommend you keep it indoors in unfavourable weather. You wouldn't want it blowing away in the wind either!

Cleaning Your Wigwam/Teepee

There will inevitably be occasions when your little one decides to drag mucky fingers across the cotton canvas - or your dog decides to kick up some earth all over it. If this happens, dry the fabric and brush off any dry mud or dirt using a brush. If any marks remain use a weak solution of soapy warm water and sponge the affected area until clean. Try to avoid scrubbing the fabric.

Weekly to monthly / routine visual inspection

Check wood for splinters which may occur - these could hurt little hands or become a choking hazard.

Check the stability of the wigwam - make sure the poles are still secure in the plastic connectors and the tie is secure at the top. You may need to spread out the poles evenly and tighten the tie at the top to keep the structure sturdy.

Warning!
