

Eco-friendly artist and woodworker Danou Charette opens the doors of his workshop

PRESS RELEASE

For immediate release

Cantley, September 26th, 2023 – Danou Charette, an environmentally-responsible woodworker and artist from the Outaouais, is happy to invite 'buy local' aficionados and minimalist design lovers to his monthly "open house", with the next edition scheduled for October 6th at his Cantley workshop.

Wanting to welcome people in his own space to present his latest creations and show the behind-the-scenes of eco-responsible furniture-making, Danou wishes to demonstrate that as a consumer, it's possible to be respectful of nature while still obtaining a unique product that is made to last AND beautiful.

Learning to deal with Mother Nature's surprises

With Danou, cutting a healthy tree to access raw material is always out of the question :

"Instead of being a barrier, working with what nature has to offer is a privilege. The forest is full of surprises, all of which I perceive as gifts, each conferring a particular character to my pieces", he argues.

Indeed, no tree is the same, even when sourced from the same forest and the same specie. The forest is part of an ecosystem where animals, insects, birds and fungus rub shoulders and is confronted to the elements such as rain, wind and snow, which all leave their mark on trees in a different way.

Invitation to the community

People on the lookout for furniture or original artwork to place in their home, home design, hospitality and construction specialists, as well as "friends" of Danou are all invited to these informal open houses to tour the workshop, admire the wood species on offer, discuss a project or even choose some wall art or a piece of furniture to bring back home!

The next open houses will take place on Fridays October 6th, November 3rd and December 1st, between 1pm and 4pm, at 325 Taché Road, in Cantley.

Those wishing to discuss a custom furniture project can also book an appointment at danoucharette.com or follow the Facebook page to find inspiration from the latest creations.

About Danou

The furniture-maker commonly known as Danou is a passionate individual who makes and creates furniture in an eco-responsible way. To the contrary of many in the woodworking world, Danou sources his raw material from trees destined to death or abandonment with the goal of giving them a new life. Simple yet modern and elegant, his pieces have become fan favorites in just a few short years.
