Dear Vladimir,

We are pleased to be included as an official partner of Giving Palette!

Since 1996, the Leaping Bunny Program, operated by the Coalition for Consumer Information on Cosmetics in the US and Canada, has been connecting compassionate consumers to cruelty-free companies under its Corporate Standard of Compassion for Animals. Companies must pledge to end animal testing at all stages of product development in addition to recommitting to the program annually and being open to third party audits. Any money donated to Leaping Bunny will be used to promote cruelty-free companies and products that are free of animal testing and help raise awareness of animal testing practices in the personal care and household products industries

You can also visit our website at leapingbunny.org to learn more about what we do and how you can help.

Thank you for supporting Leaping Bunny!

Regards,

Kim Paschen
