How to Play

- 1 Hold in your non-dominant hand with the small end facing your body and the holes facing down.

- 2 Place your thumb and middle/index finger in the holes.

- 3 Use the beater to scrape along the instrument.

Did you Know?

The guiro plays a key part in the rhythm section of salsa music.

Traditionally they were made from hollowed and notched calabash gourds (a vegetable like a marrow).

Rock band The Rolling Stones used a guiro on their song "Gimme Shelter".
