How to Play

- 1 Hold the drum by the wooden frame in your non dominant hand.

- 2 Strike the centre of the drum with your dominant hand, fingers closed together. Release quickly to allow the drum to resonate.

- 3 To create different tones, you can change the position of where you strike (the rim) or how you strike (with finger tips or a cupped hand).

Did you Know?

This style of Hand Drum belongs to the Frame Drum family, many different countries/regions have their own unique models.

Traditionally the drumhead was made from goats skin, stretched over a rosewood or oak frame.

The Tar drum is one of the oldest known variants with origins in North African and Middle Eastern music.
