How to Play

- 1 Hold the handle of the drum in your non-dominant hand.

- 2 Strike the centre of the drum head with the beater firmly and release (don't be too forceful to keep the skin intact).

- 3 You can strike the drum head in different places with your beater to achieve different tones, or even strike with your hand.

Did you Know?

The Lollipop Drum belongs to the frame drum family, these drums have a drumhead width greater than its depth.

The design is likened to the traditional Tibetan "Lag-na" which is played with a mallet.

The Bodhran frame drum is also played with a beater, this can be heard in Irish Traditional Music.
