How to Play

- 1 Hold the stem of the cabasa in your non-dominant hand firmly.

- 2 Grip round the beaded band with your dominant hand, and twist the handle back and forth to create a scraping sound.

- 3 You can also use the cabasa as a shaker, extending and retracting your dominant arm whilst holding the instrument.

Did you Know?

The cabasa originates from Africa and was called the agbe. It is also known as the afuche.

It is a relation to the shekere, which is a West African beaded percussion instrument.

Radiohead used the cabasa in their 1997 song "Paranoid Android".
