THE LANTERNCOZIE

An intimate garden wedding was the birthplace of LanternCozies. Searching for candle holders that were both elegant and unpretentious led us to create our own. The result is a collection of lanterns that combine simplicity and sophistication, casting intricate patterns of light and shadow.

Our design inspiration comes from so many avenues. From beekeeping and illuminated manuscripts, gardening and letterpress printing, to travel and old friendships. At LanternCozies, we continually experiment with new ideas and techniques to create our lanterns because we know that creating the perfect atmosphere should be effortless.

Candlelight is intrinsic to humanity. The lighting of a candle can signal the end of a busy day or the celebration of a special day, reminding us of the worth and significance of simple pleasures. We hope our LanternCozies make your dinner romantic, your evening cozy, and daily life a little bit more magical.

OUR STORY

LanternCozies reinvents the humble lantern.

Each lantern's simple shape serves as a canvas for intricate patterns that marry elegance with seemingly impossible details. Clever designs that are as beautiful by day as they are stunning by night.

Every lantern is designed and crafted in-house. Using only North American hardwoods, we hand select each piece to ensure our walnut is a rich chocolate, our white oak has a consistency of grain, and our maple is light and clear. Each piece glows with an attention to detail only possible when hand-made.

Each step in our process is made with care and consideration for the environment, ensuring that our products not only brighten your heart and your home, but also contribute to a brighter future.

The LanternCozies collection is proudly Canadian, sustainably beautiful and individually crafted with care.

BOTANICAL

This collection springs from a deep yearning to escape urban living and bask in simple pleasures of the countryside, to opt for birdsong and nature before car horns and neon lights.

The result is a harmonious blend of natural motifs with a graphic style strongly influenced by the arts and crafts era. The renewed interest and care for our noble bees, traditional botanical linocuts and William Morris all influence the collection yet the result is a style that meets today's appetite for a relaxed and understated elegance.

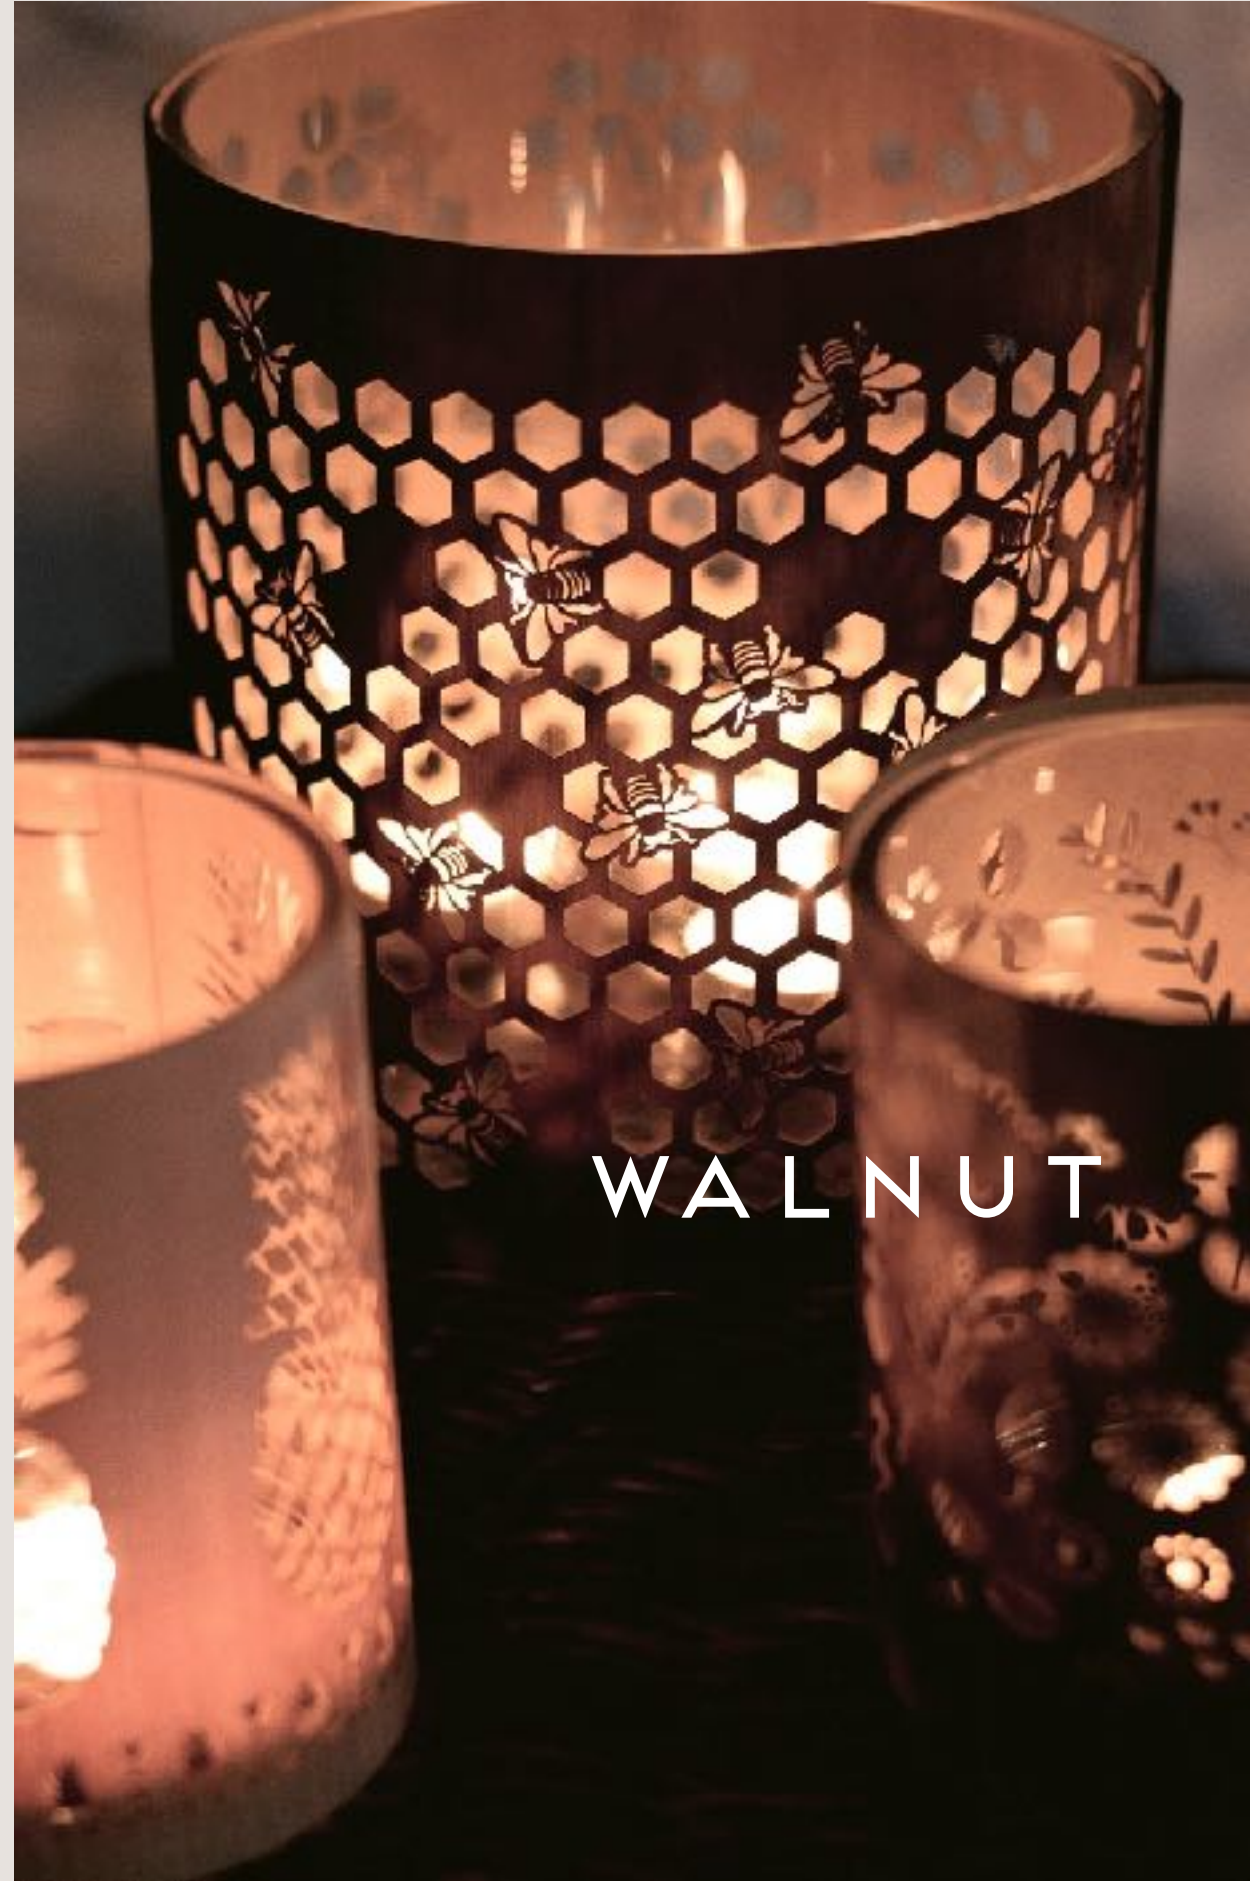

Acorns and sunflowers, butterflies and peonies, each is a nod to nature and the simple joys of rural life. The whimsical yet pared-back aesthetic allows the beauty of natural materials and the gentle glow of the candles to create a calming ambiance that is both organic and elegant.

GEOMETRIKA

The clever designs in the Geometrika collection are a celebration of the peacefulness created with the cadence of repetition.

Geometrika is a harmonious intersection of geometric surface patterns and decorative details. Styles range from mid-century minimalist to modern farmhouse to classic art deco.

From the careful selection of materials to the meticulous attention to detail, each piece is designed to create a sense of calm and order in your home. making home a place of personal sanctuary.

We love mixing these timeless designs with lanterns from our seasonal collection lending a layer of natural texture and sophistication to the holidays. But they work just as well with the selections from the botanical collection - perfect for a summer's eve.

CELEBRATION

The Celebration Collection by LanternCozies adds sparkle and light to any occasion. Whether it's a celebration of love, life, or tradition, our candlelit lanterns transform any setting into a beautiful and memorable experience.

Our seasonal designs are atypical and are not "just for the holidays". The Fir Tree's modern rustic design is also perfect for cottages, camps and chalets. The Geometric Star and Modern Stars designs with their pure, precise lines, are just extra special during the holidays. The Love Lantern, with or without the word LOVE, is a retro-cool addition to any space, even more so for engagements, weddings, Valentine's Day.

At LanternCozies, we believe that marking the passing of time should be done with style and flair. That's why we offer clean, crisp designs that bring definitive flair.
