

Galerie

DECEMBER 11, 2020

These Perfectly Patterned Holiday Gifts Will Add Festive Flair to Any Home

With prints ranging from polished plaids to dainty florals, designs by Louis Vuitton, Hermès, Ginori 1735, and Marni are sure to enliven winter decor.

By Jill Sieracki

Holiday decor tends to fall into a rather predictable palette of reds and greens with accents of gold and silver but adding pops of seasonal cheer doesn't need to be run-of-the-mill. Festive patterns, from plaids to paisleys, can add an unexpected artful touch to a beautifully styled home this winter, making them a wonderful gift. Here, a look at the most stylish decorative-print items that are sure to brighten the holidays for anyone on your shopping list.

Nimerology's "I'm Off to Join the Circus" espresso cups.
PHOTO: COURTESY OF NIMEROLOGY

<https://www.galeriemagazine.com/gift-guide-patterned-decor/>

Nimerology

Artist Nour al Nimer's playful tabletop collections feature striking geometric patterns, moody watercolors, and playful illustrations. Her limited-edition "I'm Off to Join the Circus" array of plates, mugs, and candles includes these dainty red, blue, green, and yellow fan-shaped blooms on a set of bone-china espresso cups.