If the last year-and-a-half has taught us anything, it's that curating a home space that is both beautiful, comfortable and functional—filled to the brim with trappings such as beautiful candles, sumptuous throw blankets, and quality flatware and barware galore—has never been more important. After all, with work from home extensions and generally fewer plans, we've never spent <https://www.townandcountrymag.com/style/home-decor/g37367982/net-a-porter-home-items/>

more time in our place of residence, our personal sanctuaries if you will. And just in time for a seasonal tune up, our friends at Net-A-Porter have vastly expanded their offerings for luxury goods for the home, because styling one's home as a reflection of personal taste and fashion sensibility.

The Home offering was originally added from the luxury retailer in November 2020, but recently they have added a number of subcategories including tableware, exclusive pieces from La DoubleJ and even luxury throws from designer labels Gabriela Hearst and JW Anderson, adding to offerings from key brands such as L'Objet, Vnderohe Curio, Ginori, Nimerology, Laetitia Rouget, Cire Trudon, Tom Dixon, Jo Malone, Assouline, The Elder Statesman, Erdem, Alanui and many many more.

Now that a new season is upon us, we're gearing up to spend fall and winter nesting in our sanctuaries, hosting family and in general luxuriating in the havens we have crafted for ourselves. See below for 18 pieces, such as votives, throws, plates, and more that we will be shopping from Net-A-Porter.
