PURE BILONA GHEE

1 litre of Shoonya ghee is made by culturing around 25-27 litres of fresh, desi cow milk. Once curd is ready, it is churned (called bilona) to obtain fresh butter (loni), which is then melted on a fire. Ghee made in this traditional way does wonder for one's health and well-being.

- Made in small batches
- Churned through curd, not cream
- From milk of native cows

Varieties:

Mountain-Grazed Cow Ghee / Gir Ghee / Desi Ghee
