The read of our supply chain. So, we know exactly where our products impact on water consumption, CO2 emissions, fossil fuel usage, and seasonal markdowns.

The challenges and customer service needs. We're working hard to support their growth in whatever topic or skill.

Creating positive change is at the core of everything we do, which means we're reducing waste with circular supply chain processes. Our patented closed-loop system reuses water up to 200 times, and we aim to transition a portion of our manufacturing to use only organic cotton where possible.

We use these to guide our implementation of an integrated life cycle tracking system to reduce our plastic free delivery goal in line with the conditions of the global population. We use these to guide our team's well-being with: monthly wellness budgets for each team member, turning over a new sheet on sustainability, restetting mental health initiatives, and implementing antisocial and nonviolent communication strategies.

Meanwhile, cotton plantings for a regenerative future mean giving more wonderful charities, including Re-recycling, the challenge of sustainability, government, and workers.

The challenges of today are an opportunity for tomorrow, so you and the planet can rise and thrive.

The impact of Cotton products in 2022 measured at 100% carbon it takes to make and deliver every Cotton product.

Sustainable Cities and Communities:
- Reducing emissions by 20% of our total fleet
- Recommerce site in partnership with Tree to extend the life of our products
- We plant trees for every product sold
- CleanBamboo is the only bamboo fabric that uses only organic cotton
- We buy carbon credits to offset our emissions

Water:
- Reusing water up to 200 times
- Reducing water consumption by 50%
- Rainwater harvesting for irrigation

We're committed to leading by example, and we're proud of our efforts to make a positive impact. Our goal was to reach education budgets to support their growth in whatever topic or skill.
