

Adnams has been working with Norwich University of the Arts, BA Hons Photography Year 2 students, in support of their degree course project work. Their 'Live Project' module focussed on collaboration, so we set them a brief to create a collection of work that celebrated Adnams in its 150th year.

Students were given the freedom to choose their subject and style and have produced an eclectic body of work that we are excited to exhibit around Southwold during the Southwold Arts Festival (25th June - 2nd July 2022).

This map shows the locations of the student's work within Adnams environments and Southwold Arts Festival settings.

Enjoy the trail!
