About 10 hours after my first test prop shot I started getting that well known soreness in my glute. it's been about 36 hours now and I'm getting ready for my next shot, but that glute is still sore as a bitch. the thing is, it's not so sore in the glute muscle itself, but it has spread to the dimple in my lower back above my glute and it is really painful. Never used prop before, but I'm definitely dealing with some pain. Injecting is painless. However, about 6-8 hours later the injection site starts getting sore. The day after is miserable! Shot my left cheek yesterday with 3/4 ml of prop (75mg) and 1 ml of test e (250mg) and my ass is sore as hell!

8 week test prop cycle: Ill be using different injection sites to avoid scar tissue but where? Ill be doin 150-200 eod and want to know how to cycle sites throughout each week? I.e sites, pin sizes and time of day. I'll be injecting myself so no crazy sites where u need a third arm.....???? Cheers in advance.

sites.

Re: Injection site really sore with TREN acetate + Test prop. Plz Help The ester attached to those compounds are known to have increased PIP, but if the gear is decent quality it should be able to be injected without issues if you do it properly. #covid_19 #covidindia #covid #cov?d #covid?19 #covi?d19 #health #healthylifestyle #healthcare Z Tracking is a method of injection in which you pull the skin of the site to the side. While your skin is pulled, you inject the needle and empty the syringe. Hold the needle in place for 10 seconds before removing it. Once you have fully withdrawn the needle, release the skin.

So im dealing with some virgin muscles then probly. I guess when i go back to my right glute the pain should be less. I just wasnt aware that test enanthate hurt like that. That is the reason i wanted to stay away from prop and test 400. It was pretty disapointing when i couldnt get out of bed. If you are on a steroid cycle or Having issues like uric acid, increased levels of creatinine or your KFT (kindey function test) shows your kindey is not functioning properly, try this supplement. It's a Mix of great herbs that help in improving the levels in a month (along with right nutrition). . over at this website
