ALCÂNTARA

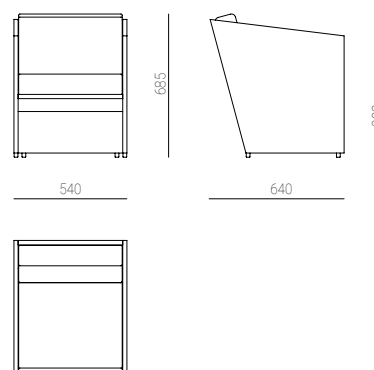

ALCÂNTARA product sheet

An armchair named after a charismatic location in Lisbon, situated next to the river. ALCÂNTARA is meant to be relaxing enough for one to take a break from the stress of daily life, to read a book or have a conversation. Being of a simple and minimalistic shape, the chair is meant to fit in every atmosphere, ambience and temporality, making it a perfect piece for living spaces and offices alike.

Made of plywood, the ALCÂNTARA chair is not only light and easy to move around, but also efficient and sustainable throughout the whole production process. Álvaro Siza points out the wholesome picture of sustainability within design, including aspects like usage, material resources, or waste volume in production. He underlines the benefits of plywood, fulfilling all these requirements, being a practical contemporary yet warm and elegant material.
