FURNA

FURNA basket product sheet

Inspired by the artisanal process of basketry from the island of São Miguel, in the Azores, and in collaboration with a local craftsman, three new and original shapes emerge for this object. The characteristics of this volcanic island originate a type of stone whose shape is used to give structure to the wicker. The irregular and organic lines of the FURNA basket result in a contemporary and versatile expression of an ancestral art.

The FURNA basket can be used as storage or decorative element in all environments.

VERSIONS

Available in three different dimensions and shapes: small, medium and large.

MATERIAL

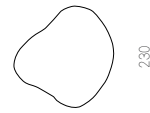

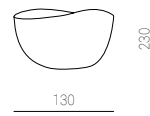

Wicker.

FINISHINGS

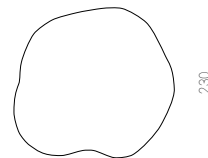

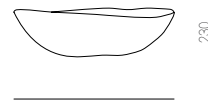

Unlike the usual procedure of using sulfur, this process utilizes the thermal waters available at the island, resulting in a material that presents a lighter tone.
