Dear Goddess,

As we approach the end of August and you haven't yet planned a solo women friendly tour to enjoy the world's most extraordinary experiences, here are many opportunities to take that first step and explore the wonders of travel. Right now JourneyWomen can take advantage of special deals that are time sensitive and too good to miss.

If you're considering a last minute retreat or tour, we invite you to choose one of the small businesses listed below. In most cases, you can speak directly with the founder or CEO to get first-hand information. You can also support another woman's business — one that caters to women only. We all win!

Featured Experiences from our Women's Travel Directory

Don't forget to look for the look for the "JourneyWoman Verified" trustmark and read the reviews.

JourneyWoman does not operate or sell tours, but we do want to help other women-friendly businesses connect with women, as travel's most influential audience. We accept new listings on an ongoing basis. Contact us at info@journeywoman.com for more information.

A "buona" deal for Puglia, Italy from Girls' Guide to Paris & Beyond!
October 2 - 9, 2022

Puglia is located in the heel of the boot of Italy. It is the land of 1000 year old olive trees and produces superb olive oil, bread, burrata and pasta.

It's also known for the Truilli, those ancient white cone shaped dwelling which you've probably seen pictured on Instagram. It also boasts the longest stretch of coastline in Italy.

We've tracked down an expert insider who is also a mozzarella maker to guide you on our Eating your Way Through Puglia tour of this incredible region.

But don't delay we only have 2 spaces left and the trip leaves in October.

Relax in beautiful Baja with Girls' Guide to Paris
January 8 - 13, 2023

Join Girls' Guide to Paris and founder Doni Belau to start the new year off right. Discover what makes for a happier, healthier, more peaceful life with Caren Osten certified Positive Psychology Life Coach and Mindfulness expert.

During our time together in gorgeous Todos Santos on the Baja peninsula we'll discover the benefits of mindfulness and learn ways to increase positivity and resilience, reduce stress, and nurture relationships. We'll begin our year with a toolkit of practical strategies, including mindfulness meditation, gratitude, boosting positivity, and self-compassion.

Todos Santos Mexico can be described as a "hippie-surfer-meets-yogi" kind of place where while sitting on the beach, you can see whales jump out of the ocean in celebration. The weather is picture perfect and the beach is stunning. There's a lot of magic in the air in this spectacular oasis.

An Early Bird Discount for JourneyWoman from

Corazon Journeys
October 4 - 13, 2022

Oaxaca, Mexico - a feast for the eyes and a poem for the soul, but not a drain on your pocket

After decades of volunteering in Central America, I decided I wanted to offer trips to other women that allowed genuine interactions with locals like what I experienced as a volunteer, but was considerably more comfortable and still affordable to women of different means. This means we stay in quant and comfortable family-run hotels.

We hire local cooks to prepare some of our meals, eat at simple, but delicious cafes, saving the more upscale restaurants for special nights. We gather around tables in the homes of weavers, artists and change-makers to listen to their stories. This is the real Oaxaca and it is magical.
