JourneyWoman Book Club Update

Jan 19, 2023

Dear Goddess,

Hello book and travel lovers! Our JourneyWoman Book Club is moving into our second year -- and it's even better thanks to our partnership with TripFiction. Based in the UK, TripFiction makes it easy to find that perfect combination of book and destination, allowing you to search books by location, title, author and genre.

In November, we shared our first three books for 2022, and today, I'm thrilled to share our next three, which take us through to July. These include;

- May: Gods of Jade and Shadow by Silvia Moreno-Garcia (Mexico)
- June: In the Shadow of the Banyan by Vaddey Ratner (Cambodia)
- July: The Paper Palace by Miranda Cowley Heller (Cape Cod)

I hope you'll join us this Wednesday, March 16 at 8 pm ET for our monthly book club meeting. We'll be discussing "An Act of Love" by Carol Drinkwater, whose name you may recognize from the BBC Series of James Herriot's All Creatures Great and Small or her best-selling books about her olive farm in Provence. "An Act of Love" is set in 1943 France, and shares the story of Sara, who is forced to leave war-ravaged Poland and escape to France. Its themes are powerfully relevant in today's world: what does freedom mean? How do we define 'home'?

Register for "An Act of Love" on March 16 Here!

For each of our books, I interview the authors. You can watch my interview with Joanna Glen, author of "All My Mothers", our February Book of the Month, on our YouTube channel.

There's more travel inspiration for you on our Book Club page, including:

- Tembi Locke's "From Scratch: A Memoir on Healing and Love Set in Sicily"
- Biking Across the Silk Route in Kate Harris' Memoir "Lands of Lost Borders"
- 23 Women Whose Travel Memoirs Will Inspire Your Next Journey
- Margaret's Travel Treats: 10 of the Best Travel Documentaries to Feed A Curious Mind

I hope you'll join us and look forward to seeing you at our next book club meeting!
